Dear Home School Parent,

You have made an important decision and a strong commitment to your child (children). Montana law (M.C.A. 20-5-109), allowing for compulsory school enrollment exemption, accommodates this family choice.

Your commitment to your child (children) includes an "organized course of study" as required by law (M.C.A. 20-5-109). You, as the provider of your child's education, are responsible for determining/obtaining the curriculum to be used. A list of resources can be found in this packet.

Also enclosed in this packet you will find a home school notification form which needs to be updated and returned to this office on an annual basis for as long as you continue to home school. Please do so by September 15th of each year. This document serves as verification that your child is attending school, therefore not being labeled as 'truant'. It also serves as documentation for (re)entrance into public school, admittance to colleges, universities or military.

For your convenience I am also sending an attendance form. At the end of each semester, please send a copy of this attendance record to be kept in your child's permanent record file here in the county superintendent's office. Per MCA 20-5-109, home school attendance must be documented.

The Montana Coalition of Home Education, www.mtche.org, is a great resource for home educators. The Hi-Line Home Educators support group is also willing to answer any questions and provide information; they serve Hill and Blaine counties. Contact Kent and Lois Gilge, 262-9755; or Doug and Betty Boyce, 265-6957, dougandbettyboyce@msn.com.

Thank you and have a good school year.

Respectfully,

Valerie M. White

Home School Informational Packet

Introduction. The Office of Public Instruction receives dozens of calls each year from people with questions about home schooling. Many of those calling request that OPI provide a summary of Montana law pertaining to home schooling. This document outlines key statutes re: private/nonpublic schools in Montana. Attached to this document is the full text of statutes and administrative rules that may be of interest to those with questions about home schooling. The statutes discussed below may also be found in the 2017 Montana Code Annotated and have been in effect for many years. This packet of information is not provided as a complete analysis of the issue nor is it intended as legal advice.

Compulsory Enrollment and Exceptions. Montana law states: "Except as provided in [Mont. Code Ann. §20-5-102(2)], any parent, guardian, or other person who is responsible for the care of any child who is 7 years of age or older prior to the first day of school in any school fiscal year shall cause the child to be instructed in the program prescribed by the board of public education pursuant to 20-7-111 until the later of the following dates: (a) the child's 16th birthday; (b) the date of completion of the work of the 8th grade." Mont. Code Ann. §20-5-102\(1\).

Home School Exception to Compulsory Enrollment. In Mont. Code Ann. §20-5-102(2), Montana law provides that a "parent, guardian, or other person shall enroll the child in the school assigned by the trustees of the district within the first week of the school term or when he establishes residence in the district unless the child is: * * * (e) enrolled in a nonpublic or home school that complies with the provisions of 20-5-109. For the purposes of this subsection (e), a home school is the instruction by a parent of his child, stepchild, or ward in his residence and a nonpublic school includes a parochial, church, religious, or private school." Mont. Code Ann. §20-5-102\(2\).

Home School Requirements. Section 20-5-109, Mont. Code Ann. states: "To qualify its students for exemption from compulsory enrollment under 20-5-102, a nonpublic or home school:

- (1) shall maintain records on pupil attendance and disease immunization and make the records available to the county superintendent of schools on request;
- (2) shall provide at least the minimum aggregate hours of pupil instruction in accordance with 20-1-301 and 20-1-302;

Responsibilities and Rights of Parent Who Provides Home School and Rights of Child in Home School. Section 20-5-111, Mont. Code. Ann., states that "[s]ubject to the provisions of 20-5-109, a parent has the authority to instruct his child, stepchild, or ward in a home school and is solely responsible for:

- (1) the educational philosophy of the home school;
- (2) the selection of instructional materials, curriculum, and textbooks;
- (3) the time, place, and method of instruction; and
- (4) the evaluation of the home school instruction." Mont. Code Ann., § 20-5-111.

Home School and Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)

In Montana, homeschooled students that are registered with the county superintendent of schools are considered parentally placed private school students. These students must be treated the same as other parentally placed private school students under the IDEA. No parentally placed private school student with a disability has an individual right to receive some or all of the special education and related services that the student would receive if fully enrolled in a public school. 34 CFR 300.137. Additional information on the IDEA and private school students can be found in OPI's Special Education in Montana guide.

The Internet...

Many parents considering home education for their children begin their search for information using their computers at home. By plugging into the internet and doing simple searches (www.google.com, www.yahoo.com, etc) using keywords such as HOMESCHOOL, HOME EDUCATION, etc you quickly discover hundreds, if not thousands of sites that can provide many answers. And for families already homeschooling their children, the internet provides ample material to answer questions as they pop up.

Statistics continue to show that a high majority of homeschooling families have computers in their homes, and use them regularly. And many of these computers are used to 'surf' for information on the net.

In addition to finding resources, many discover that local 'support groups' have posted web pages that include names and addresses of other homeschooling parents/leaders. Events and contests are regularly posted in many areas. Legislative information can also be easily obtained in most states.

The internet, when used properly, can be a rich wealth of information. But always remember that as easy as it is to find beneficial material on the net, it is just as easy to stumble onto harmful material. Using the internet should be a family endeavor.

In the event that your family does not own a computer, most libraries provide computers for public use. Also, many eateries and coffee shops offer free wireless services to their customers who have laptops.

To help you get started, below and on the following pages, are lists of internet sites that contain valuable information on home education. And if you are a seasoned internet user, there may be a few new sites to add to your 'bookmark' list. As experienced users know, this is but a snapshot of what is really 'out there'.
